A PRICE-DECENNIAL*

Beginning At Once and Extending Indefinitely

Prices on this page are indicative of prices throughout the store!

Have you realized that today you can purchase special values in merchandise at prices that are as low or lower than they have been for ten years? We have studied merchandise markets...surveyed current retail offerings in our own and other great retail stores...and compared our buyers' first choices made from available emergency offerings of merchandise...all in relation to the most outstanding values advertised in the deflation era of ten years ago. The results have surprised us...and will amaze you. It is to build a more general appreciation of this fact that we announce...

THE PRICE DECENTIAL

...Which will continue in this store for some time to come. We will make known special values of such a striking nature...that they will tell their own convincing story of superior value—quality for quality—as compared even with the leading Deflation Values of 1920-21—and even 1913-1914 or 1915 in some instances.

Every item in this advertisement is marked—quality for quality—at our lowest price in 10 years—to the best knowledge of our management, our retail buyers, our wholesale authorities, and all manufacturers with whom we have worked.

*During this event we are offering 1931 values at less than 1921 Deflation prices. (Decennial, from decum—ten).

SURVEY SHOWS BARGAIN VALUES IN MDSE. LINES

Corley Makes Study of Primary Marts.

BY O. A. MATHER.
It is the history of most economic depressions that they end when commodity prices have fallen, when production has declined to or below normal demand, and when excess stocks of goods have been consumed. There are various evidences that these factors have been operating for some time and are now bringing a gradual improvement in trade and industry.

Results of an exhaustive investigation of primary merchandise markets were made known last night by Frederick D. Corley, vice president and merchandise manager of Marshall Field & Co. As the result of the general decline in commodity prices many lines of merchandise now can be sold at lower prices than prevailed during the 1920-21 deflation period, while some lines show even lower prices than prevailed during the pre-war years of 1913-14.

Points Way to Buying.

"We studied the primary merchandise markets, surveyed the current retail offerings in our own and other great retail stores, and compared our buyers' first choices made from the available emergency offerings of merchandise—all in relation to the most outstanding values in the deflation era ten years ago," Mr. Corley said. "The results surprised us and we think they are of widespread interest and great importance generally in the retail trade. We believe this will point the way to freer buying and a less restrained spirit of trading in all lines of business."

OTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET IS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

One of the most delightful affairs ever held at Trinity M. E. Church was a mother and daughter banquet in the Sunday School room Thursday evening with more than 150 mothers and daughters present. The affair was sponsored by the Lal Bagh Missionary Society, the Woman's Home Missionary Society and the Sara M. Chew Missionary Society.

A three course dinner was served, guests being seated at tables decorated in a color scheme of green and white with bouquets of spring flowers as center pieces. The dinner was served under direction of Mrs. George Henkel and her committee.

The program opened with three selections by the "Toonerville Trolley Orchestra" under direction of Mrs. Helen Smith Spahr. Mrs. J. J. Stout toasted the daughters and Miss Marry Hayward responded. The Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Rager were introduced and each spoke briefly. Mrs. William Magee Wilson presided during the speaking program.

Later nine living pictures were presented showing the span of life from childhood to death. During the presentation in which members of the societies took part, solos were sung by Miss Emma Lamar, Mrs. W. H. McGeevey and Mrs. Foy Coffelt, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Street. The last picture was a scene showing the phases of home and foreign missionary work, which was introduced by an interesting paper read by Mrs. W. B. Chew.

Success of the affair is due to the efforts of Mrs. George Street, who was general chairman.

LEWIS-MITCHNER NUPTIALS IN WILMINGTON

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Marie Mitchener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mitchener, Wilmington, to Mr. Daniel E. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, S. Detroit St., this city, which took place in Wilmington, March 11. The ceremony was performed at the Friends Church parsonage by the Rev. O. H. Folger.

Mrs. Lewis is graduate of Wilmington High School with the class of 1930. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be at home to their friends n Xenia after May 1.

ORCHESTRA CHANGED FOR "BUCCANEER HOP".

Music for the annual "Buccaneer Hop" at Central High School Friday evening will be furnished by Charlie Reeder's Orchestra, Dayton, instead of Harry Gehring's Orchestra as previously announced. Dancing will start at 8 o'clock and a number of novelty features will be introduced during the evening.

The "hop" is an annual affair in honor of the school's basketball team champions in the Miami Valley League.

Skirts To Pass After 1931 Is Prophecy Now

By JEANETTE SMITH
Central Press Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 27.—Throw away your skirts, flappers, college girls and matrons, because by next year you won't be wearing them at all!

This alarming prophecy, uttered by Russell Patterson, famous artist, is by no means as radical as it sounds.

For, in place of skirts, says Patterson, women will be clad entirely in pajamas—pajamas for sports, pajamas for the street, pajamas for the office, pajamas for the beach, pajamas even for formal evening wear.

Sees Vogue General

In just one year, he believes, the emancipation of women will be complete, and pajamas will be the vogue.

Pajamas, with trousers so wide and flowing that they appear at first glance to be skirts, will replace dresses for all time, declares the handsome young artist.

They are comfortable and most becoming. Though they conceal the legs, they are molded tightly to the hips, and display the figure intriguingly. Already they are being worn on the beaches, at informal teas and at evening parties.

For Street Wear

"Soon girls will play tennis and golf in pajamas. They will wear pajamas in business offices. They even will appear on the street in pajamas made of suit cloth.

"Pajamas will eliminate that annoying tendency of silk skirts to fly above the knees when a gust of wind comes along. They also will eliminate the necessity of continually smoothing down the skirt in the office."

Patterson's girl drawings are known throughout the world.

VEGETABLE GARDEN CONTEST PLANNED; SPECIALIST HEARD

ACCUSE TWO IN OHIO SLAYING

Believe Murder Of Veteran Cleared

E. R. Lancashire, garden specialist of Ohio State University, spoke of the value of the farm garden from a health standpoint as well as a financial asset at a meeting in the assembly room of the Court House Thursday afternoon.

He declared more garden material is needed in Ohio, since 39,000 car loads of vegetables were shipped into the state last year. He explained soil and planting conditions and answered questions concerning a garden plan. "Organic matter is the bank account of your soil and you have to keep up the organic matter if you intend to grow gardens successfully," he said.

The meeting was sponsored by the "Better Homes Committee" and Mrs. Ernest Bradford spoke of the possibilities of promoting a vegetable garden contest, which the group favored by vote. E. A. Drake, county agent, opened the meeting with brief remarks. Twenty-two attended the meeting. Any one wishing to enter the garden contest may notify the committee, the county agent or the county demonstration agent at the Greene County Farm Bureau office, Federal Bldg.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take council but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin.—Isaiah, xxx, 1.

WARDEN'S PLAN

The retort of the warden at Joliet that he would throw into a solitary cell any prisoner who signed a petition asking for an advisory council of convicts to act with the administrative officials of the penitentiary ought to have a salutary effect on the population of the Joliet and Stateville prisons.

The participants in recent riots in those institutions, which resulted in the death of three convicts and the destruction of $500,000 worth of state property, are described as largely newcomers in crime. They are fresh from an atmosphere of coddling. Oldtimers knew what was coming to them if they were caught and sent up. Consequently they had no "grievance" against society. They didn't squawk. The new crop of criminals has been taught by people who ought to know better than to look upon a penitentiary as a "country club." When it discovers that there is a slight difference, it riots and burns down prison buildings.

Convicts who have to be segregated from society because of their anti-social propensities retain behind the bars only the right to be treated as one treats a dangerous animal. All their other former rights have been forfeited. Society can do what it likes with them; can imprison them or execute them, according to what it regards as necessary to the general interest. The idea that men who have warred on society and been captured and locked up have the right to demand a new parole board whenever they disapprove of the one appointed by the state, would be amusing if the consequences of their acting upon it were not so frequently tragic.

The rioters whom Warden Hill has thrown into solitary confinement will have a chance for their young blood to cool, as well as leisure to reflect that those outside of our penitentiaries are going to rule those inside them. The disposition to destroy life and property in order to influence the treatment accorded them must be burned out of the malignants. Adherence to the firm policy laid down by Warden Hill gives the only hope of stopping further trouble and proving that society's rights are paramount and its word, with respect to convicted criminals, final.

"Isn't it funny? That a man will get up in the morning from an advertised mattress, shave with an advertised razor, and put on advertised underwear, advertised shirt, collar, tie and shoes, seat himself at the table and eat advertised breakfast food, drink advertised coffee, put on an advertised hat, light an advertised cigarette, ride to his place of business in an advertised car, seat himself at an advertised desk, in an advertised chair, then turn down an advertising solicitor on the grounds that advertising does not pay?"—(Frary, Inc., New York.)

An article in the Journal of Commerce says that a good poker player can successfully run any business. But what does a good poker player need with a business?

Chicago twin girls, eight months old, are suing their grandfather for $150,000. Under present systems of education childhood is too snort.

A dry senator says the number of speakeasies in New York is greatly exaggerated. Doubtless the entire city is simply a mirage.

The other day a divorce was granted in three minutes in Reno. But the trouble with such quick divorces is they seldom last.

"You can't change human nature," cries the philosopher. Then he tries to make human nature quit assuming that you can.

Other Editorial Thoughts

WORSE THAN WAR

During 18 months of the World War, 50,510 members of the American Expeditionary Force were killed in action or died of wounds.

During the 18 months preceding January, 1931, 50,900 people were killed in automobile accidents in this country.

There could be no better illustration of the seriousness of the automobile accident situation.

According to a survey by the Travelers Insurance Company, the leading cause of accidents in 1930 was failure to give right of way, which accounted for 15 per cent of deaths, and 31.5 per cent of injuries. Second was excessive speed, which was responsible for 21 per cent of all accidents, and third, driving on the wrong side of the road, which totaled 16 per cent.

Higher speed is a natural result of improved roads and cars. But the other two primary causes of accidents—which together accounted for 27 per cent of deaths and 47.7 per cent of injuries—amount to simple ignorance, recklessness or carelessness. They show improper training on the part of the motorist, coupled with inadequate enforcement of traffic laws.

Every year complete and detailed resumes of the previous year's accident record are prepared. Study of them should show what enforcement is needed, what can be accomplished. A few states, in a period of rising hazards, have managed to appreciably decrease accidents within their borders. All other states can do the same.—Ashland (O) Independent.

THE LOUD-SPEAKER FIEND

During the summer months, when all windows are open, nearly every radio is, at some time or another, an annoyance to someone. The fellow who wants to sit up late and listen to programs keeps his windows open and the sound is heard all over the neighborhood. The fellow who wants to go to sleep a little early keeps his window open also because of the heat, and tosses on the pillow in frequently prostate agony. All this has become part of urban existence and one rather expects it.

But a new form of nuisance has made itself evident to rob winter of its former peace and security. Neither closed windows nor "sound-proof" walls are any guarantee against the loud-speaker fiend. This fellow comes into his apartment at all hours of the night and twists the dials for a bedtime musical program. Perhaps he turns them on in the dark and cannot find the gadget that softens the tone of his instrument, or perhaps he is in the mood for listening to music as it sounds to those who sit in the first rows of theaters, on the right-hand side in close proximity to the drummer. Maybe he has a passion for that sort of thing. Anyway, it sounds like it.

Appeals to the better nature of these fellows is useless. The only remedy that comes to mind, off hand, is to pass a law providing for confinement to a larger boiler, on which a dozen husky deputies shall pound with sledge hammers for any period of time within the discretion of the court. — Ashtabula Beacon-Journal.

Capital Punishment

How many states do not have capital punishment?

Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Wisconsin do not have capital punishment. Michigan just recently passed a law providing for the death penalty, which is to be submitted to a referendum in the spring. Penalty is life imprisonment in the states which neither hang, electrocute or execute with gas.

THERE ARE EXCEPTIONS

"Even with the movies and the tabloids spreading their mischief," says Tammany Town's Revered Police Commissioner, "a kid who has the right kind of father and mother, and who has been taught religion, is not apt to go wrong."

That's funny.

Almost every member of the Commissioner's notorious Vice Squad received religious training as a boy. One of them, in fact started out in life headed for the church.

THE ENGLISH CROOK

Jack Wilstach, having written a mystery yarn, went over to London and investigated Scotland Yard and the English crime situation.

"It's my belief," he says, "that British police methods are not so good, but the crooks over there are feeble and backward; they should send representatives over here to study modern racketeering methods."

Years ago, George Ade summarized the British lack of enterprise in crime. He said that if the murderer was found, his fellow lawmakers could be found to sponsor or approve such an increase, and none contradicted him.

He failed to get it. Representative Clyde Kelly of Pennsylvania, a majority member of the post office committee and generally recognized as the best-informed legislator on Capitol Hill concerning all questions relative to Uncle Sam's mails, expressed his doubt whether a single one of his fellow lawmakers could be found to support or approve such an increase, and none contradicted him.

Nevertheless, the subject has not been dropped. It was announced through the "White House spokesman" some time prior to adjournment of Congress that President Hoover himself is alarmed by "the steadily mounting postal deficit," and wants a congressional committee to decide what rates should be imposed to fatten the department's revenues.

"UNCLE STEVE" PHILLIPS

Despite the fact that 1930 was a year when the country was not prosperous, the National League had the busiest season at the turnstiles its clubs ever experienced, playing to an aggregate of 5,500,000 spectators, 500,000 more than in 1929 and 136,000 more than in 1928—the previous peak year.

Consequently, although not the best year baseball ever had, the year was far from being the worst the pastime has ever experienced.

The depression did not hit the Cubs, who played before 1,463,624 fans, nor the Brooklyn Robins, who attracted 1,60,000 followers to Ebbets Field, which proved too small for the club's clientele.

The American League also had its huge percentage with Washington setting a new home attendance record of 600,000, while more than 70,000 enthusiasts attended a Labor Day double-header at the Yankee Stadium.

The reason for the greater attendance in the National League as compared with the American was the fact the senior circuit had a race and the junior league didn't.

Russell Limes, a young bantam from Xenia, has so far proved the sensation of the two Golden Glove amateur boxing shows staged at Dayton. Clever footwork and general heady boxing produced for him a clean three-round decision over a Miami youth Wednesday night and sport critics were unanimous in the opinion he gives every promise of developing into a topnotcher in his class. He lives on Miami Ave.

Even Jack Ryder, Cincinnati sports writer, is running out of alibis for the hapless Redlegs this spring and when this particular scribe goes so far as to pronounce their case hopeless, the Cincinnati team must be terrible to behold in action this season.

Some fans hold that it does not mean a thing whether a major league team wins or loses a majority of its exhibition games in spring training, but in the case of the Reds one scribe points out that losing as consistently as Cincinnati is doing means the Redlegs will be subjected to even more razzing than usual when they get back home.

It is difficult to explain why it is the Reds, as poor as they are every year, always attract such a large number of fans at their home games unless it is because a majority of people go to Redland field, not with the hope Cincinnati may win, but out of a desire to watch the visiting teams play, or perhaps because they merely like to give the Howleyites the old razzing.

As they wind up their spring training the Detroit Tigers look to have an extremely promising pitching staff. They will have eight good men and true and possibly nine on that mound next summer.

XENIA BOWLERS END LEAGUE SEASON IN SIXTH LOOP PLACE

The Xenia Recreation quintet, local entry in the Miami Valley Traveling Bowling League, composed of ten teams from Dayton, Springfield, Richmond, Ind., Middlebury, Troy, Washington C. H. and Xenia, wound up its schedule in sixth place in the final standing, with a record of eighteen games won and twenty-four lost. Hollis Peterson was high average bowler in the league. The final standing:

FINED ON CHARGE

Entering a guilty plea to intoxication, Uriah Hedgepath, 43, colored, 76 Jasper Ave., was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge E. Dawson Smith Friday morning and paid the assessment. He was arrested following a complaint that his auto struck and scratched the fender of a car owned by Attorney F. W. Dunkle, parked in front of Fisher Bros. meat market, E. Middlebury.

MUNICIPAL COURT

As they wind up their spring training the Detroit Tigers look to have an extremely promising pitching staff. They will have eight good men and true and possibly nine on that mound next summer.

Waite Hoyt, the former Yankee schoolboy tosser is rated the king pin of Manager Bucky Harris' staff.

Others include George Uhle, Earl Whitehill, Vic Sorrell, the youthful Whittle Wyatt, Tom Bridges, Charley Sullivan and Elon Hogsett, the redskin. There should be plenty of good hurling in that setup.

Wally Schang, veteran receiver now laboring for the Tigers, thinks Bridges is going to show plenty of stuff this year.

Earl Whitehill and Vic Sorrell may also prove to be big winners. George Uhle, however, due to a lame arm, may have to be content to spend at least early summer months in relief duty. That arm hasn't responded to treatments as quickly as Harris hoped.

Hoyt looks to be in splendid condition and has had little trouble winning in the exhibition games.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE AWARDS LETTERS TO BASKETBALL TEAM

Letters were awarded eleven players and the manager of the Cedarville College varsity basketball team at chapel services Thursday, while smaller numerals were presented six members of the college feminine court squad, which played half a dozen games.

Six seniors were among those who were rewarded for basketball service during the 1930-31 campaign.

The awards were presented by Coach Marvin Borst and brief talks were given by Prof. Leroy Davis, Dr. F. A. Jurkat and Prof. A. J. Hostetter.

Members of the varsity squad awarded letters were: Charles Bost, Walter Boyer, Wendell Boyer, Preston Garlough, who was elected honorary captain; Charles Spencer, Albert Turner, Alfred Townsend, Robert Wilson, Marion Rife, Louis McLaughlin, Robert Collins and Joe Foster, manager.

The two Boyers, Turner, Townsend and Collins are seniors while Rife is also in the same category because he is completing a two-year normal course with the expectation of teaching next year.

Sarah Rumbaugh, Mildred Carle, Doris Swaby, Ruth Marshall, Nina Stevenson and Wilda Auld were the six girl basketball players given letters.

HERE'S THE DOPE ON REDS

Scribe Sees Howley Team Not Improved Over Last Year's Sorry Club

By E. G. HALIFAX
International News Service Special Correspondent

TAMPA, March 24.—Most anything but a path of velvet will confront the Cincinnati Reds when they launch their 1931 campaign in the National League. It will be a surprise to the experts if the Howley clan makes a better showing this season than it did in 1930. The Reds won fifty-nine times in 154 championship games last year and terminated play next to the cellar in the senior circuit.

Dan Howley, the lonehearted leader of the Red band, is still in the constructing stage of his "tearing down to build up" program. He knows it is more difficult to build than to wreck and therefore will make no promises for the coming season.

Physically the team, barring natural consequences of strenuous training, is in good condition.

Manager Howley is fairly satisfied with his infield, catching and hurling staffs. Its the outfield that's a farce in the opinion for Dan. He signed six gardeners with the idea of keeping five, but a serious blow was struck when Harry Heilmann, slugging right fielder was taken down with arthritis. In his quest for a young team, Howley handed Curt Walker walking papers.

This act drew criticism a plenty because curt waxed the apple at a 30 clip last season. The Texan most likely would be shelter in the rainstorm now. Heilmann may be out for the entire season or even permanently.

Howley planned to use the big boy as a fixture in right field this season with the offense built around him and his big bat. Now it appears Wally Roettger, acquired from the Giants, is the only certainty for the outer pastures.

Left field is open for Estel Crabtree, who was recalled from Columbus, Ray Fitzgerald, secured from the Giants, or Gene Moore. Howley figured to use Nick Cullop in right, but Nick to date has not lived up to his reputation as a slugger.

Cullop will be given every chance in the world to come through. He has been nursing a sore arm. In the emergency Cliff Heathcote has been obtained from the Cubs.

Right spots in the Red camp here have been the work of Frank Sigafous, recruit infielder, and the return of the veteran Horace Ford to the fold. Ford will be in utility roles this season and is a good man to have around. He held out for a while, but decided that the ice cream business can wait awhile longer.

With Mickey Heath, former Pacific coast star at first, Tony Cuccinello at second, Durocher a great fielder, at short, and Joe Stripp on third in the infield appears intact. Lena Styles and Bob Aspinhorn are second string catchers with Clyde Sukeforth slated for regular duty.

On the hurling staff Howley has Larry Benton, Archie Campbell, Red Lucas, Owen Carroll, Benjie Frey, St. John, Harlan Wysong, John Ogden and Ed Strelcick.

N. Y. STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, March 27.—A mild selling wave carried most of the active stocks to lower price levels this morning. Though not unexpected, the announcement of the passing of the National Cash Register dividend was greeted with an outpouring of selling orders which carried that stock down nearly four points to 273. McKeesport Tinplate slipped under 96, on profit taking for a loss of about seven points from the peak of the week and Westinghouse dropped under 99.

How Much Is Essential For Yearly Maintenance?

United States Government Allows $400 Per Annum for Dependent, $200 Less Than Courts Rule for Smallest Item On Heiress' Petition

The verdict in Surrogates' Court, N. Y., granting permission to Hon. Moya and Eileen Beresford, daughters of Lord Decies and the late Vivian Gould, in which the sum of $12,500 was the amount decided by the court as necessary for their yearly maintenance, recalls other notable cases. Gloria Caruso's yearly maintenance was set at the staggering sum of $12,000, while in the case of Doris Duke, heiress of the late tobacco king, at the age of 15, the cost of fitting out her room was estimated at the colossal sum of $6,000. The smallest item in any of the above cases sanctioned under ruling of United States courts greatly exceeds the sum of $400, the amount on which an average wage-earning citizen can claim exemption for the maintenance of a dependent under 18 years of age.

NEW YORK, March 27—American jurisprudence functioned throughout the country. Under smooth to help a titled Briton and the heading of exemptions there appears an item setting forth that each citizen is allowed to take quickly did the court acquiesce in the wishes of Lord Decies and the Honorable Moya Beresford, the husband and daughter of the late Vivian Gould, both remained on the bench for some time to watch the well-oiled machinery of the court.

The petition of the Irish peer on behalf of his two daughters and son, for permission to spend $12,500 annually, from the trust funds of $522,335, given the children by their mother, daughter of the late Jay Gould, was granted.

Affidavits of the children set forth the manner in which they wanted to spend the money and deemed by the court necessary for their maintenance. All was enumerated as follows:

Rent, $1,677; household expenses, $2,166; servants, $1,000; school, $2,500; travel, $1,000; clothing, $1,000; motor car upkeep, $667, and income taxes, $2,500.

The petition of the tall, handsome Briton, who twenty years ago sailed out of New York with Vivian Gould on an Alexandria honeymoon, brings up the query: "How much is essential for the upkeep of a dependent?"

The question is vital at this time,

TAXATION SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BEFORE MEMBERS OF GRANGE

Ralph Howell, of Miami Grange, Yellow Springs, gave an interesting talk on "General Principles of Taxation and Reduction of Taxes" at the afternoon session of Greene County Pomona Grange which met with Beaver Grange Wednesday at the K. of P. Hall, Alpha. A discussion followed Mr. Howell's talk in which S. H. Shawhan, Ed Ballard, John Chitty, Howard Smith, Joseph Hutchison, T. W. Van Pelt, Harvey Fulkerson, Harry Stedman and George Kemp took part.

Resolutions on bills now before the state legislature, expressing the opinion of the meeting were passed.

At the morning session, with H. F. Stedman, master, presiding, reports from subordinate and juvenile Granges were heard. Fair exhibits were discussed and the fair committee will meet with the fair board Friday evening. Mrs. Nellie Mossman, Horace Ferguson and Mrs. J. B. Mason were appointed members of a committee to plan a play tournament. It was announced that the Grange basketball tournament will be held at Ross Twp. High School Monday evening, March 30 and Wednesday evening, April 1 under the management of Horace Ferguson, T. W. Van Pelt, Russell H. Cosier and Mrs. Howard Smith were appointed to make plans for the Pomona Grange initiation at Pleasant Grange in Bowersville in June.

A gavel made from a piece of Charity Grange Hall, which will be known as "The Traveling Gavel," was presented to Charity Grange, which will start the gavel on its journey throughout the country by taking it to Caesarcreek Grange Tuesday evening, April 21. Montgomery County Pomona Grange and Greene County Pomona Grange will be entertained by Spring Valley Grange Wednesday, May 27.

During the afternoon the following program was presented: three musical selections by Zink Orchestra, from Charity Grange; vocal solo Mrs. Raymond Tobis, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson Ankeny, from Beaver Grange; vocal solo William McGuire, of Charity Grange; reading, T. W. Van Pelt, Spring Valley Grange and a reading, Mrs. J. H. Mossman, Jameson, Mrs. J. H. Mossman, Jameson Grange.

FAIRBANKS-MORSE ARRANGES DINNER

Representative Xenians have received invitations to a dinner at 6:30 o'clock Monday night, March 30 at the Episcopal Church Parish House when the position of Fairbanks, Morse and Co. in connection with the Xenia electric light and power question will be explained. The dinner-meeting is being sponsored by the Cleveland company, which has not abandoned hope of obtaining the local franchise and contracts.

GIRL WHO GIVES ALL FOR FAMILY IS HEROINE OF GREAT NEW SERIAL STORY

It has been written, and in a noted Book at that, that a man shall give up his mother and father for a wife. That was back in the old Biblical days. It still holds good at present.

But with the changing times, with woman taking the position she has in modern business, that same problem is presented her also. Nothing has been written, however, to show her the way. The good Book does not say that a girl shall give up her dependents for a husband.

Story Heroine

Mary Vaughn, heroine of the Gazette's great new serial story, "Love Preferred," which begins April 1, has that problem to face. A business girl, attractive, efficient, but with a slightly overdeveloped sense of duty to her family, plays the "head of the house" in her little family circle. A widowed mother, two younger brothers, and a sister to whom all the best things are given, these are her burdens. She faces them with a smile, of course, for Mary is a sweet, unselfish sort.

But must this eternal giving-up for others continue always? Is she to have no opportunity for romance of her own? Mary's problem is one many a girl in business has to solve. Mrs. Edna Robb Webster, author of "Love Preferred," finds the answer for her.

Moved by Problem

Mrs. Webster has known many Marys in her life. And because she was moved by their common problem she has undertaken to write this masterful story of a New York business girl. She presents her in her native setting, a girl loving her work and her home, but with a wistful, far-away dream of romance that may some day come to her also. The story of Mary Vaughn will give you a new insight into the life of the girl in business. It begins April 1 in The Gazette.

CHOIR OF REFORMED CHURCH TO PRESENT MUSICAL SERVICES

With the approach of Easter various churches are planning special musical services and the first of these will be a vesper musical service by the choir of the First Reformed Church, assisted by other talents, under direction of Miss Marguerite Williams, Sunday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. BEAUTY CROWNS BRING SORROW

Popular notion that beauty crowns seldom bring neither happiness nor lasting fame is strengthened by the tragic plight of Mrs. Fred Nixon-Nirdlinger, upper right, "Miss St. Louis of 1924," who has been held at Nice, France, following the shooting of her husband, Philadelphia theater owner, whom she says she killed in self-defense. Maria Teresa De Landa, left, who was "Miss Mexico" in 1928, was tried for shooting and killing her husband of a few days, Gen. Moises Vidal, when she learned that he had a wife and two children. Although she finally was acquitted her crown had brought her great sorrow. Fay Lanphier, center, below, who was "Miss America" in 1925, now is a Hollywood stenographer, and Mary Katherine Campbell, lower right, twice winner of the Atlantic City crown, is seldom heard of now. Other "Miss Americas" have dropped into oblivion.

Grandsire's Dream Fulfilled

Grandson of the man who imagined a venture such as he is about to make, Jean Jules Verne stands by Lady Wilkins as she christens the submarine Nautilus, in which her husband, Sir Hubert, will make an attempt to reach the North Pole by diving under the polar ice pack. The ceremonies were performed at Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy Yard before a distinguished gathering.

Charlie Pit-a-Pat for Patty

Owing to the unusual interest taken by Charlie Chaplin in Patricia Detering (above), British actress, it is freely predicted in the English capital that the famous comedian will bring her back to Hollywood and stardom. Miss Detering, known professionally as Sari Maritza, is a blonde and very beautiful. Charlie is, to say the least, enthusiastic about her and says "she has everything."

DOMESTIC DUTIES HELP 'IT' GIRL'S EX-SECRETARY ENDURE JAIL

While Daisy De Voe, former secretary of Clara Bow, convicted of stealing $825 from her employer, has been in the Los Angeles county jail, awaiting a decision on her appeal for a new trial, she has busied herself about the cell block, playing the role of housewife, to pass the hours.

Photos show Daisy doing a little dusting, mending, making her bed and ironing. •

HEROIC FIGURES ARE INNOVATION OF "OEDIPUS REX"

These heroic figures are innovations of the forthcoming production of Stravinsky's "Oedipus Rex," to be given under Leopold Stokowski's direction by the League of Composers and the Philadelphia Orchestra association.

April 21st at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. Figures such as those above will move on a high platform while singers, in costume, grouped in a solid mass along the stage level, below. The figures are by Remo Bufano. The performance will be a social event.

Greatest Actor Meets Most Brilliant Wit

Among the many who crowded to pay homage to Charlie Chaplin, idol of the screen, during his visit to his native England, was George Bernard Shaw, noted playwright. They are pictured together at a London theatre where, after witnessing Chaplin's new film, the playwright called him a genius.

At the right, listening in, are Lord and Lady Astor, who also welcomed the conquering hero home.

EX-CHAMPS—HOW MANY CAN YOU IDENTIFY HERE?

1923; Frank Klaus, middleweight champion, 1913; Battling Nelson, lightweight champion, 1908-1910; Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion, 1917-1920; Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion, 1925-1927; Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, 1920-1923; Johnny Dundee, featherweight champion, 1923-1925. How many can you pick out from memory?

Defying superstition these babies picked Friday, the 13th of March, to make their entry into the world at a New York hospital. Well, it's luckier to come in than to go out, on a 13th or any other date.

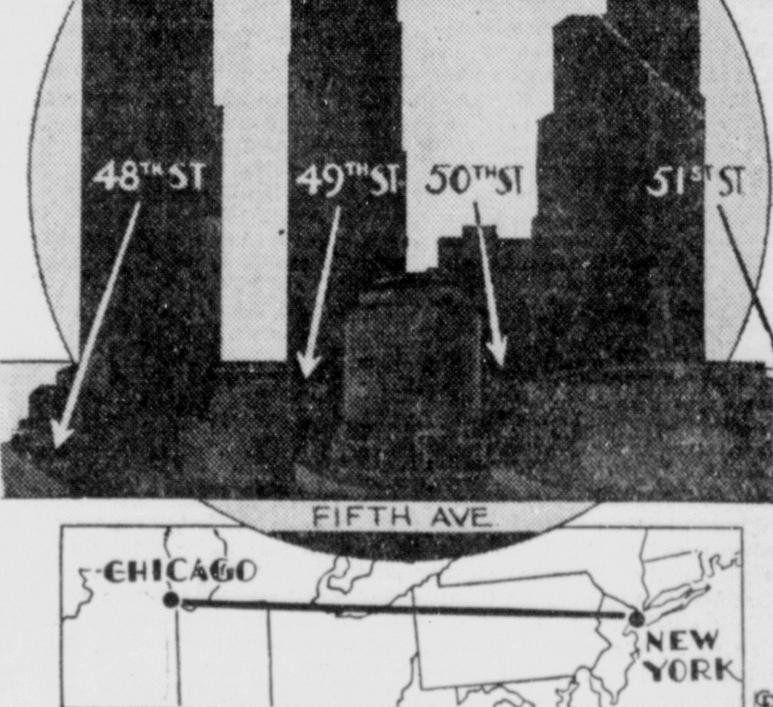

HUGE STEEL ORDER BRINGS WORK

8,000 to 10,000 men in Pittsburgh district, to whom this contract will mean employment. In New York approximately 1,000 structural iron workers and 200 engineers, draftsmen and checkers to supervise the work.

TWO AND one-half times as much steel as that needed for the new Hudson river bridge.

THREE TIMES larger quantity of steel than that used in the Empire State building.

IF THE 25,000 tons of steel were rolled into rails it would make a railroad from New York to Chicago.

A contract for 125,000 tons of structural steel—largest single order ever placed—for the new so-called "Radio City" being erected by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in the center of New York, will bring work to thousands. The steel, which will be rolled and fabricated in the Pittsburgh district, means employment of 8,000 to 10,000 men. Erection in New York will require another 1,000 structural iron workers and 200 supervisors. Movement of the material will call for 5,000 to 6,000 cars. If the steel were rolled into rails it would form a railroad from New York to Chicago. The quantity is three times larger than required for the Empire State building, tallest in the world; and two-and-a-half times that needed for the Hudson river bridge, world's largest. "Radio City" will extend along Fifth and Sixth avenues in New York from Forty-eighth to Fifty-first street. In the group will be a 65-story skyscraper, two 45-story buildings, great theaters and a monumental elliptical broadcasting center.

What Will Your Answer Be?

A Fair Question

What do ye more than others?

—Matthew 5:47.

THE world is still echoing this question of Jesus to His disciples. It expects those who profess to be followers of Christ to be different from those who make no such profession, and to manifest that difference in some tangible way. This is a reasonable test which we can apply to our own lives: What sacrifices am I making, what service am I performing, more than those who lay no claim to discipleship?

Why did Christ emphasize doing? Because doing measures our love for any person or cause. In the last analysis, not to do means not to love.

What do Ye more than others?

To Business Men

There is a pleasure in doing things. The desire to do a little bit better—persistent ambition—friendly competition—these characteristics of American Business have contributed mightily to the growth of our Nation. You will find the same zest in the work of the Master once you become familiar with His great organization. Striving forever to build—you will have a real interest in building the things most worth while. Come to Church tomorrow—catch a glimpse of God's great work. You will go away feeling that you have had a part in the one greatest business.

The Theater

Lloyd Bacon, the director, has foreseen the first week of the yachting season to go north to spend two weeks with the Gentry Bros. Circus.

Bacon expects to come back full of ideas for "Sideshow," the next picture he will direct, which will be a starring vehicle for Winnie Lightner, of whom you may have heard. It is an original screen story by William K. Wells, who also will do the screen play and the dialogue.

Another attempt is being made to find star material in American colleges. For two months and a half Arthur Ungar, of Universal, has been touring the universities of the country, selecting the most

Many players, however, have attended or graduated from colleges and universities. Some of them are: Charles Farrell, Boston U.; Edmund Lowe and George O'Brien, Santa Clara; Thomas Meighan, St. Mary's; Spencer Tracy, Marquette; Kenneth McKenna, Columbia; Louise Huntington, Texas U.; Marion Lessing, Illinois; John Garick, Brighton, England; Warren Hymer, Yale; Joyce Compton, Tulane U.

The high school basketball team beat Covington at the rink, 72 to 9, "Cap" Schultz scoring forty-six points.

William Baxley, S. Detroit St., has accepted a position with the Reynolds and Reynolds Paper Co., Dayton.

Mrs. Robert Burnside, of Philadelphia, who has been visiting here for several weeks, has returned home.

Mrs. Fred Schell and Little son, Frederick, are spending a few days in Wilmington.

likely screen possibilities among the students. His protégés will be brought to Hollywood during Easter vacations for talkie tests.

No attempt will be made to retain any of them then. When the tests are made they will return to their colleges and next summer, a lucky few will be asked to come back for real try-outs. They will be given small parts in Universal pictures and will be sent to a motion picture school. If any potential stars develop, they will be given contracts.

A similar experiment was tried by First National several years ago, but none of the discoveries turned out to be important. In a less systematic way, several other companies are scouting around universities for material. First National already operates a school for apprentice actors.

On the other hand several good film prospects have been picked up directly after finishing college. Johnny Mack Brown was a star football player at Alabama and John Wayne was a Southern California student before entering pictures.

Don't Let a Poor Carriage Be the Skeleton in Your Closet

Noted Cornell Savant Advocates Regal Stance As Aid to Grace, Health and Longevity, in Direct Contrast to "Back to Nature" Theories of New German "Health Cult."

CORRECT POSTURE

COUNT THUN-HOHENSTEIN

INCORRECT

ITHICA, N. Y., Mar. 27.—Reach for a star and acquire new beauty! That is the latest prescription of science to aid those who wish to stand and walk correctly. It is none other than Doctor Elizabeth Edmunds, of Cornell University, who has been telling beautiful show-girls as well as housewives and society girls that they remind her of skeletons. No, not because many of them are so thin, but because so many of them stand just like skeletons the same caved in form, the same slump and everything. Rather an unpleasant thought isn't it? But it is quite easy really to prevent your carriage from being the skeleton in your beauty closet. Even if Doctor Edmunds does say that only one out of every four Americans has the correct and regal stance and carriage of an aristocrat.

And so we are told to make ourselves as tall as possible without standing on tiptoe or vary that by stretching the body as though one would reach for a star. When one stands as tall and straight as possible the spine becomes thoroughly unknotted with attendant healthy results. And this simple prescription makes quite unnecessary the old exercise of balancing a glass of water on the head, said to have been in vogue among beauties of the Victorian era. Doctor Edmunds believes that the prettiest face is as nothing if its owner does not stand and walk correctly and with grace. And schoolgirls and debutantes are told most emphatically to avoid that skeleton slump that they think so fetching and fashionable if they are to become truly beautiful.

While Doctor Edmunds and other savants are teaching America the secret of correct and healthy

BABY SUFFERING FROM ECZEMA

Quickly healed by Resinol

"I want you to know how much your wonderful Resinol Ointment has helped my baby. At the age of eight months he developed a case of eczema on his forehead. The skin became so red and sore that people even remarked about it and I hated to take him out. I tried other ointments but none were successful until I tried your Resinol Ointment. After using the contents of one jar and a small amount of the second, his skin was completely healed. I am never without this product." (Signed)—Mrs. Catherine Keefer, Bethlehem, Pa.

Resinol Soap for baby's bath, tends to prevent eczema. Resinol is available at all drugstores. For free sample write Resinol, Dept. 63, Baltimore, Md.

"For two years I suffered with irregularities, frequent headaches and general weakness. I tried various medicines but all to no avail. I read about your highly praised medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, gave it a trial and obtained wonderful results from it. I am a stenographer and bookkeeper and I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to other girls who work."—Stella T. Culksky, 2413 Delaware Street, Gary, Indiana.

ALLEN BLDG. ROOMS ARE REMODELED FOR NEW KROGER TENANT

Partitions and exterior walls are being torn out as workmen for W. O. Jeffries and Son, contractors, are rapidly remodelling the architecture of the Allen Bldg., for the occupancy of a branch of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., which has vacated its director's room, which was directly in the rear of the former jewelry store location.

This room is being thrown into the front room, an outside wall being torn down, and the rear room joined on the south with the wall of the Coates Barber Shop room.

The branch, out of existence since a forced removal from the Donges Bldg., 30 S. Detroit St., will occupy the room recently vacated by the Wagner Jewelry Store, which is now located in a larger room at 8 W. Main St., where a rear door will be provided, and cuts off the rear door from the main hallway of the Allen Bldg.

The room being provided for the grocery, will also take several feet from the rear of the hall, the partition wall being flush with the elevator shaft.

Jeffries and Son also have the contract for installing a new Otis elevator in the building, replacing the lift in use for the last thirty-seven years. The installation will require the erection of a walled in elevator shaft from the basement to the roof, with a penthouse on the roof to house the machinery.

A MORE
ANTI-KNOCK
GASOLINE

Blue Smackover

By using the most modern refining process there has been produced from the famous crude oil from the southern Arkansas fields which contains a high natural content of the so-called aromatic naphthenes and insaturates petroleum compounds which produce the desired anti-knock quality. This unusual gasoline combines in one motor-fuel every desirable quality required by high compression motors and in addition contains the same quick starting and smooth operating characteristics that have popularized high test gasoline. The great power found in Smackover accounts not only for its remarkable anti-knock performance but likewise is responsible for the high mileage yields per gallon.
